Re: BTNL 2026-29 Self-Certification Pursuant to CFTC Regulation 40.2(a) Certification - Listing of USD Coin US Dollar Spot Contract

Dear Mr. Kirkpatrick,

Bitnomial Exchange, LLC (“BTNL” or the “Exchange”) hereby submits for self-certification to the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (“CFTC” or the “Commission”) under Commission regulation 40.2(a) its plan to list USD Coin US Dollar Spot (“USDCUSD”) contracts to be offered for trading on BTNL for an intended trade date on or after April 23, 2026.

Contract Description

The USDCUSD contract is a physically-settled, margined futures contract based on the price of 0.00000001 USDC (USD Coin). Attached Exchange Rule “USD Coin US Dollar Spot Contract” details the product specifications.

USD Coin (USDC) Market Overview

USD Coin is a fully backed stablecoin designed to maintain a 1:1 peg with the US dollar. It is widely used for payments, trading, and decentralized finance, providing a reliable store of value in the crypto ecosystem. Issued by Circle and governed by transparent reserves, USDC ensures regulatory compliance and seamless integration with traditional financial institutions. The token is a core asset for on-chain transactions, reducing volatility in digital payments and financial applications.

Governance: USDC is a centralized stablecoin governed by the Centre Consortium, a partnership between Circle and Coinbase, which oversees its issuance and regulatory compliance.

Consensus Mechanism: As a token issued on multiple blockchains, including Ethereum and Solana, USDC relies on the consensus mechanisms of its host blockchains.

Concentration of Ownership: USDC issuance is centralized, with Circle responsible for minting and burning tokens based on user deposits and redemptions.

Liquidity: USD Coin has a market capitalization of $78,444,106,892.00 and a 30-day spot trading volume of $13,397,777,220.00, ensuring strong liquidity and accessibility across centralized and decentralized exchanges as well as OTC dealers.

BTNL has determined that its rules related to the listing of USDCUSD contracts comply with the requirements of the Commodity Exchange Act and the rules and regulations promulgated by the Commission thereunder. BTNL has reviewed the DCM Core Principles and related guidance and determined that the listing of USDCUSD contracts impact the following Core Principles:

Core Principle 2 - Compliance with Rules:

Trading and delivery of USDCUSD contracts are subject to the Business Conduct and Trading Practice Rules found in Chapter 4 of the BTNL Rulebook including Rule 403 which forbids pre-arranged, pre-negotiated non-competitive trades. Trading and delivery in these products will also be subject to Market Operations and Discipline and Enforcement Rules found in Chapters 5 and 6, respectively.

Core Principle 3 - Contracts Not Readily Subject to Manipulation:

Multiple domestic and foreign markets trade the underlying USDC product, making manipulation unlikely. Additionally, Trading and delivery of USDCUSD contracts are not readily subject to manipulation because they are subject to position limits. Daily and Final settlement will be determined in accordance with BTNL Rule 509.

Core Principle 4 - Prevention of Market Disruption:

Trading and delivery of USDCUSD contracts are subject to prohibitions of market disruption under Chapters 4, 5, and 6 relating to Business Conduct and Trading Practices, Market Operations, and Discipline and Enforcement, respectively. All trading at BTNL Exchange is subject to market surveillance and a robust disciplinary framework.

Core Principle 5 - Position Limits or Accountability:

Trading and delivery of USDCUSD contracts are subject to position limits set forth in the product specifications. The position limits are consistent with Commission guidance. Position limits may be adjusted based on market needs.

Core Principle 7 - Availability of General Information:

Prior to the launch of trading of USDCUSD contracts, product terms and conditions will be available on the BTNL website. Information on delivery of USDCUSD contracts will be made available on the BTNL website.

Core Principle 8 - Daily Publication of Trading Information:

The Exchange will publish USDCUSD trading volumes, open interest levels, and price information on its website and through quote vendors.

Core Principle 9 - Execution of Transactions:

Execution of all USDCUSD contracts will take place on the BTNL electronic trading platform. Electronic execution provides competitive and transparent transactions. All USDCUSD contracts will be cleared by Bitnomial Clearinghouse, LLC (“BNCH”), a CFTC-registered derivatives clearing organisation (“DCO”), subject to Commission rules and oversight.

Core Principle 10 - Trade Information:

All requisite trade information will be recorded and stored in the audit trail and will be surveilled and monitored in accordance with BTNL Rules.

Core Principle 11 - Financial Integrity of Transactions:

All USDCUSD contracts will be cleared by BNCH, a CFTC-registered DCO, subject to Commission rules and oversight.

Core Principle 12 - Protection of Markets and Market Participants:

BTNL Rules have set forth numerous requirements and protections to prevent intermediaries from disadvantaging customers.

Core Principle 13 - Disciplinary Procedures:

All USDCUSD contracts are subject to the protections provided by Chapter 6 of the BTNL Rulebook. Chapter 6 describes the disciplinary procedures of the Exchange that authorize the Exchange to discipline, suspend, or expel Participants that violate Exchange Rules.

Core Principle 14 - Dispute Resolution:

Disputes arising from trading of USDCUSD contracts must be arbitrated in accordance with BTNL Rules found in Chapter 7. All disputes, controversies or claims between or among themselves that relate to or arise out of any contract or otherwise arise out of one or more transactions made or to be made on the Exchange or subject to the Rules and are based upon facts and circumstances that occurred at a time when the parties were Participants or Customers.
